The stadium replaced the old Stadio Car lo Pranzo, which was named after a young soldier from Lecce killed in the First World War. On 2 October of that year, the first match between teams from Italy w as played with Lecce beating local rivals Taranto 1 O. In 1967 Lecce played a fr iendly against famous Pelé's Santos here. The initial capacity was 16,000 spectators. In 1976, the capacity was i ncreased to 20,500 seats. With the historic first promotion of Lecce to Serie A in 1985 the stadium was almost completely rebuilt and capacity greatly increased to 55,000, which made it the 6th stadium in Italy by capacity until 1990 FIFA W orld Cup.[5] Both the Curva Nord, now the terrace of the organized fan groups le d by the Ultrà Lecce, and Curva Sud, where Gioventù are based were reb uilt. The tribuna and Distinti were also upgraded and then, to ensure that all s
